REFERRAL FEE DISCLOSURE

Referral fees are often paid between licensed brokers where one broker is referring a client to another broker. In the spirit of total transparency, it is our desire to ensure that you are fully aware of the payment of a referral fee in connection with your real estate transaction.

As a result of your referral to Real by another real estate broker, Real intends to pay a referral fee upon the closing of your transaction. Specific information about the referral fee may be provided upon request.

By signing below, you acknowledge Real's disclosure of its intent to pay a referral fee in connection with your real estate transaction.
